Almost half of the population consists of Bhils. The means of communications are fair weather roads. 3. The Ruling House represents the elder branch of the Sisodiya and the State was founded about the close of the thirteenth century A. D. by one Mahup. About the middle of the sixteenth century, Banswara, under a younger brother, became separate. Shortly after, under Rawal Askaranji, an alliance was concluded with the Mughals and later on in 1818, with the Hon'ble the East India Company. The State rendered good services to the British Government during the Mutiny of 1857.

4. The Ruling House is related by blood to the Houses of Udaipur, Banswara and Partabgarh and by Marriage to those of Sailana, Rutlam, Sirohi, Jaisalmer, Alwar and Kishangarh.

Appendix III shows the Tariff in force.
